Independent Document of Support Form
2023-2024Purpose of Form

Generally, the Independent Document of Support Form is requested to provide a more detailed picture of your and, if applicable, your spouse's financial strength. This form collects information about income received in 2021 as well as some of the most common expenses that may have been incurred in 2022.

Students are considered independent for financial aid purposes if they meet one of the following criteria: you were born prior to January 1, 2000, you can answer "yes" to any 2023-2024 FAFSA dependency question (described here: <https://studentaid.gov/apply-for-aid/fafsa/filling-out/dependency>), or a dependency appeal was approved by Student Financial Services.

General Instructions

Students who are married must report their spouse's income as well as their own. For each field, report the appropriate values from the 2021 calendar year. Be sure to report all sources of income, whether domestic or foreign.

Independent students must report student/spouse expenses for 2021. Carefully read each item and report monthly expenses where appropriate. Multiply all monthly expenses by 12 to calculate the annual amount. If a monthly expense was not incurred for all 12 months of 2021, provide only the total amount for that particular expense in 2021 and provide a statement explaining the situation. For example, if car payments were made for only 6 months instead of 12 because the car was paid off after 6 months, provide a statement to clarify.

If your 2021 expenses exceeded your 2021 reported income, you must provide a written explanation of how you and/or your spouse were meeting expenses. Forms showing greater total expense than income and received without a written explanation will be considered incomplete. If you wish to provide any additional information regarding your or your spouse's financial circumstances, please submit it along with this form.

Student Financial Services may request third-party documentation to confirm the values you report on your Independent Document of Support Form. Should you submit a form with incorrect information, you must also submit third-party documentation to confirm the correct values. Adjustments to a financial aid award as a result of submitting documentation to correct an Independent Document of Support Form are neither guaranteed nor immediate.

Forms received without the appropriate signature(s) or with missing information/pages are considered incomplete and must be resubmitted. Do not leave any questions blank. Enter "0" or "N/A," if appropriate. Submitting incomplete forms or documents will delay the evaluation of your financial aid eligibility and the awarding of your financial aid.
